Cookie Forming Machine

At Total Food Machines, we offer an extensive range of machinery designed to meet the diverse production needs of the food industry. From cookie forming to complete frying lines, including battering, breading, crumbing, and frying, we provide high-quality solutions tailored to your business requirements.

Cookie Forming Machines is the perfect solution for bakeries and food producers looking to efficiently form a variety of products. Capable of handling cookies, flapjacks, gingerbread, biscuits, and even sticky or delicate products, this versatile machine ensures consistent results, even with challenging doughs.

Key Features and Benefits:

- Versatile Product Formation: The Cookie Former can handle a wide range of textures and consistencies, from standard doughs to more delicate or sticky mixtures.
- Efficient Design: The machine uses a synchronized paddle system to gently press dough into the desired shape, while a wire drum scraper ensures smooth, consistent formation. The formed products are then ejected onto the conveyor belt for easy handling, packaging, or further processing.
- Customisable Configuration: The Former is available with various drum options, including both plastic and aluminium models. A spiral camera within the drum allows for precise adjustments to product thickness, ensuring it meets your specific production needs.
- Flexible Conveyor Options: The machine comes with a standard conveyor belt, but can also be equipped with an extended 750mm belt for larger production volumes. Additional options include paper interleaving, a food-grade pedal, and a variable speed conveyor to further tailor the machine to your requirements.
- Capacity and Hopper Options: The standard 18-litre hopper can be upgraded to larger models, with capacities available up to 200 litres, allowing you to optimize production rates and handle varying batch sizes.
