

Boiling Kettles

Industrial Boiling Kettles

Total Food Machines supplies a comprehensive range of industrial boiling kettles for commercial kitchens, central production kitchens and food manufacturing facilities.

Our stainless-steel boiling kettles are suitable for preparing pasta, rice, potatoes, vegetables, soups, stocks, sauces, meat products, hams, sausages and many other bulk food products.

Models are available with electric, steam or gas heating and can be supplied with or without product stirrers. Capacities are available to suit smaller commercial kitchens through to large-scale industrial production facilities.

Optional stirring systems provide consistent product movement throughout the cooking process. This helps improve temperature distribution, reduce manual mixing and provide more repeatable results between production batches.
